VOL. XXXII. SAINT MARY'S COLLEGE, CALIFORNIA, MARCH 8, 1935 Issued Weekly Number 25

HOMECOMING DAY OF ALUMNI WILL BE ON MARCH 31

Committee Rearranges the Day's Program; New Entertainment Added

Final plans for the annual Homecoming Day, to be held on the campus on Sunday, March 31st, are nearing completion, according to Chairman Joseph Stretch '30.

A meeting of the committee in charge was held last Tuesday evening in the office of Sheriff William J. Fitzgerald '05, in the San Francisco City Hall.

The day's program will begin with the annual Mass and Communion of the members in the college chapel, to be followed immediately by the breakfast in the refectory. From the time breakfast is finished until 1:30, the members will be allowed to attend meetings, educational conferences or engage in sports.

The time from 1:30 until 3:30 will be filled with a baseball game to be played on Agnon Field, followed by the yearly benediction services and dinner.

Train Service

Special train service has been engaged and will be so arranged as to convey the members to the college in time for the Alumni Mass and home again at a reasonable hour.

All former students of Saint Mary's, whether they are graduates or not, are cordially invited to attend this Homecoming Day, according to Mr. Stretch.

Humorists To Be Aired On KTAB This Evening

Giving the third and final talk in a series on "Literary Laughter" in the College weekly radio feature, "Contemporary Authors," Mr. Robert J. McAndrews, local debate coach and assistant graduate manager, will speak tonight at 7:45 p.m. over radio station KTAB.

Mr. McAndrews said that tonight's talk would deal with present day American magazine humorists, including Robert Benchley, Donald Ogden Stewart, Dorothy Parker and Corry Ford.

A new series will be introduced next week by Mr. Edward Smiddy of the college English department, in which he will discuss another contemporary novelist.

Treasurer

Brother Josephus, instructor in economics, who was appointed treasurer of the college as a result of the recent changes in administration.

Literary Contest Deadline Friday

All Essays Must Be In By March Fifteenth

Commemorative of the bi-centenary of the death of Thomas More, the topic chosen for this year's Tobin Essay is directly concerned with him. The essays which will deal with 'The Influence of Blessed Thomas More on English Literature," are due March 15.

According to Edward J. Smiddy, who is in charge of this contest, this topic takes on special significance at the present, since Pope Pius XI has announced that he will canonize Thomas More sometime this coming summer, in honor of his bi-centenary.

Contestants Named

Contestants who will participate in this contest are Noel Sherry, president of the ASSMC, Joe Alioto, Arthur Mott, Victor Strub, and Brother Kevin and Brother Clement, both of the Scholasticate.

The prize of $100 cash award established by the Honorable Richard M. Tobin for the best student essay of 5000 words or more, written on a topic of current interest chosen by the English department, will be awarded at the commencement exercises.

Judges for this contest have been selected by Mr. Smiddy. They are three prominent men of business and letters of San Francisco.

Routine of Scholasticates Revealed by Brother Edward

The life of the young Brother in the Scholasticate here at Saint Mary's was revealed yesterday by Brother Bede Edward, director of the Scholasticate, and instructor in Spanish and Education, in an interview with The Collegian.

"The Student Brothers," he began, "lead the usual life of the Christian Brother throughout the day, though they form a separate community. The spiritual rule of life they follow is very much the same as that of the 'Community Brothers' for they are in the chapel for meditation and spiritual reading and exercises at the same time. The 'Community Brothers,'" he explained, "is the name given to the faculty Brothers by the Scholasticates."

Attend Classes

"Outside of their spiritual exercises," he continued, "the young Brothers are engaged most of the day in attending classes with the students." At this juncture, Brother Bede pointed out that this attendance of classes with the other students is a great advantage to them, for these contacts tend to develop a well-rounded poise and self-confidence and will contribute greatly in innumerable other ways to their success as teachers later on.

Practice Teaching

In addition to the regular cultural college courses that they follow, the young Brothers are also prepared for teaching in the Scholasticate. Since they are regular students, and do not follow the regular education courses in college until they reach upper division standing, they receive the necessary instructions in regards to teaching in separate courses which are given them in the Scholasticate.

These include a weekly conference on Education; practice teaching once a week; observation and practice teaching at Saint Mary's College High

Senior Talk Given By Noted Alumnus

A noted graduate of Saint Mary's College and a former president of the Alumni Association this morning presented the senior class with another in the series of transition talks sponsored weekly by the alumni group.

Sylvester Andriano '11, who is also a member of the board of trustees of the college and a former San Francisco supervisor, used as his subject "Catholic Action and the College Graduate."

Mr. Andriano is well-suited to speak on this subject since he is also intimately connected with the Y.M.I. He said that there is a real necessity for lay leadership in the Catholic Church, of course, under the guidance of the clergy.

Catholic college students must lead the movement for Catholic Action, especially in these unsettled times when new ideas and new theories on government are needed and when falsehood often creeps in in the guise of truth, he said.

Mr. Andriano is also the attorney for the Italian consul in San Francisco.

Gael Photos Will Be Resumed Monday

Brother Virgil, staff members, and Philip Brady, editor of the Gael, expressed at the meeting held last Monday afternoon, that they were pleased with the progress made thus far.

As in the past, however, students have been unnecissarily lax in making their initial fifty-cent payment, which will reserve a Gael for them. It is the hope of the staff that such payments will be made within the next week or so, in order that the work on the book may be speeded.

Photography Finished

After a delay in the photography, which was due to the last minute rush for class pictures, the photographer concluded his duties this week.

More advertising schemes and means for raising revenue were discussed at last week's meeting in which Maurice O'Conner, advertising manager, announced that any student who secures ads will receive a 10 per cent commission.

For the information of many students who seemed to be confused as to their payments for the annual, Business Manager Philip Quittman stated, "contrary to the opinion expressed by many students, persons will not be able to buy the book in May by paying the entire fee at that time. Only a limited number are to be published, pending the number of installments received."

Former Treasurer Will Take Long Vacation

Due to ill health, Brother Ralph will leave Monday to take an extended vacation, he announced this week. First, he plans to go to San Diego, where he will remain until the end of the month.

Early in April he will go to Spokane to attend a meeting of the Accrediting Committee of the Northwestern Association of Higher Schools, of which he is a member.

While in the north he will visit Columbia University, now the University of Portland.

Following this he will spend the greater part of the year in the Southwest. After recuperation, Brother Ralph will go to St. Louis, Chicago, and New York.

His duties will be assumed by Brother Josephus, treasurer, and Mr. A. L. McMeans, comptroller of the college.

Graduate To Start Paris Letters in Paper

Beginning this week, another feature dealing with world affairs will be added to The Collegian when "Paris Letters," written by Vic Lusinchi of last year's graduating class, now a correspondent for the Exchange Telegraph of London, will make its first appearance.

This feature will be run alternately with "Political Front," also written by a member of the class of '34, Jack Metz, former student body president.

THREE NEW MEN ON BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Albert Shine Resigns After Twenty Years Service

Three new members were elected to the Board of Trustees at last Saturday's meeting, it was revealed early this week. The new men, all officers of the college, are Brother Albert, the newly appointed president, Brother James, dean, and Brother Josephus, recently appointed treasurer of the college.

The vacancies were caused by the resignation of Brother Gregory, former Visitor, who resigned because of ill health, Brother Ralph, who resigned for the same reason, and Mr. Albert T. Shine, who resigned because of the press of other duties. All three resignations were submitted at Saturday's meeting.

Officers Changed

At the same meeting, the officers of the board were changed. Brother Jasper, the new Brother Visitor, was elected president, John J. Flynn took the post of secretary, replacing Brother Ralph, who had held the position for many years.

Professor James L. Hagerty retained his place as the vice-president of the board. Mr. A. L. McMeans was appointed comptroller of the corporation. Brother Josephus was elected treasurer of the board.

A new set of Rules of Order were submitted and discussed. They will be voted on at the September meeting of the board.

List of Members

The board membership now consists of Brother Jasper, Brother Albert, Brother James, Brother Josephus, Brother Vallesian, Sylvester N. Andriano, Frank M. Dwyer, James M. Smith, Brother Virgil, B. P. Oliver and James L. Hagerty.

Brother Jasper Hurt In Automobile Accident

In an automobile accident caused by wet pavements Wednesday night, Brother Jasper, newly appointed Brother Visitor, was slightly injured when the car in which he was riding collided with another.

Brother Jasper suffered slight cuts and bruises. Brother Joseph, who was driving the car, was not injured. The accident occured on the highway between Martinez and Lafayette. The car was badly damaged.

Committee Named To Handle Commencement

A Commencement Committee, consisting of Prof. James L. Hagerty, chairman, Brother Bede Edward and Brother Matthew, was appointed by Brother Albert, president of the college, this week.

This committee will select the speakers for the Commencement exercises, and will draw up the program for the day, it was revealed. May 12 is the date of graduation.

Manager Change In KTAB Causes Delay

Because of two changes in the management of station KTAB, arrangements for remote control studio on the campus have been delayed, Robert McAndrews, radio manager, announced this week.

The management of the station which offered to install a remote control studio here has changed, and Mr. Lansky, formerly of the National Broadcasting Company of Denver, is the new manager.

Also KTAB is moving the San Francisco studios to the Russ Building, and will be completely installed in about two weeks. After that time the manager will attend to the studios here, Mr. McAndrews announced.

Brother Albert, the president, is wholeheartedly behind the move, said Mr. McAndrews stated.

BRO. ALBERT STATEMENT

On taking office this week, Brother Albert, the newly appointed president, issued the following statement:

"I wish to take this opportunity to state that there will be no change in the policy of my predecessor during this semester. Primarily, I have the academic interests of the college at heart, and am making a complete study of each department prior to making an extension of courses.

"As soon as things have settled themselves a little, I hope to meet the students and intend to devote a certain period each day to making their acquaintance."

Ex Council Looses ASSMC Pursestrings

Varsity debaters were assured of their excursion through the great northwest last Wednesday when the Executive Council voted them $55 for expenses. To this the college added $60, which makes it possible for the team to tour four states within the next two weeks.

Collegian Supported

Other allotments voted include the long-awaited and much-needed Collegian appropriation. Philip Quittman, new Collegian editor, outlined the expenses which will be incurred in improving the paper, and submitted an expense account of $20 which was readily voted by the council.

Quittman stated that the money will be used to secure cuts of prominent students, and to improve the editorial page.

President Noel Sherry announced that after these appropriations were made, enough money would be left in the treasury to take care of tea dances, dramatics and other activities.

Council members were informed that a member of the Abbey Players of Ireland will speak in the Lounge on some evening next week. Students are urged to attend the talk.

New Debate Head Selected by APGU

To handle the forensic duties while the manager is away on the Northwest tour, Carl Schuck was chosen as assistant to Thomas Twomey at the honor society meeting Tuesday.

Schuck was elected to the dictator's office of the organization for 1935-36, and he will automatically become the manager in the fall semester. He is now a sophomore student, registered from Los Angeles, and has been a regular member of both the frosh and varsity forensic squads.

Long-Time Record

The retiring manager has held the position for three years, a record unequalled for extent of time among college groups. Unofficially he is the "dean of Pacific Coast debate managers."

During his term, Twomey has seen debating at Saint Mary's grow from a squad of three men to its present group of 25 varsity members, and he was directly responsible for securing the appointment of a debate coach two years ago.

His latest contribution was the institution of the NBC intercollegiate debate hour on KGO. He is a member of the Western Association of Debate Managers.

Vice President Presides At Student Meetings

During the absence of student body president Noel Sherry on his tour of the Northwestern states with the debating team, vice-president Sam McCullagh will handle the affairs of the ASSMC.

McCullagh, like other vice-presidents, must ordinarily be content to preside over the legislative body. In the absence of Sherry he will extend the official welcome of the student body to Dr. Albert, the new college president.

SENIOR DEBATERS TO MEET MANY TEAMS ON NORTHERN TOUR

McAndrews To Accompany Debaters on Trip Through Four States and Canada

On Monday morning four representatives of the local debating society and their coach, Mr. Robert J. McAndrews, will leave for a two weeks' tour through Oregon, Idaho, Washington and British Columbia. They will meet eleven teams.

In making the journey, the group hopes to break down the prejudice that only one cut-and-dried subject may be used on a debate tour. Accordingly they are going to discuss four varied subjects, the payment of the Soldiers' bonus, the Townsend plan, Japanese naval parity, and the international shipment of munitions.

Thomas Twomey

Oregon Opponents

The first stop Monday evening will be made at Eureka, California, where a club organization will be met. John Somers, graduate of the 1933 class, is arranging the debate.

Tuesday evening will find the team at Oregon State College. On the following day they are to compete with Pacific University at Forest Grove, Oregon.

An international discussion is set for Thursday with the University of British Columbia in Vancouver.

Meet Women's Team

University of Washington women's varsity will present the opposition Friday evening when the troublesome problem of naval parity for Japan will be analyzed.

Pensions for the aged, according to the Townsend plan is the subject slated for argument at Gonzaga University in Spokane on Monday, March 18. This will be a decision contest.

Double-header Set

A double-header is scheduled for the next day. In the afternoon the soldiers' bonus will be reviewed with Washington State College, while the Townsend

Brother Austin Made Prefect of Freshmen

Replacing Brother James, dean of the college, Brother Austin was late yesterday appointed prefect of the freshman dorm, word from the office revealed last night.

Brother Austin, who is head of the Spanish Department, is taking a position of this type for the first time. Whether the appointment was permanent of merely temporary was not revealed.

McAndrews Raised To Assistant Dean

In his first official act, Brother Albert, president of the college, this week appointed Mr. Robert McAndrews to the position of Assistant to the Dean.

Mr. McAndrews will take over his new duties as soon as he returns from the debating tour, in about two weeks time. At the present time, he is debating coach, and is instructor in Vocal Expression.

In his new position, it was revealed, Mr. McAndrews will spend most of his time in the Recorder's office, checking over the credentials of graduates, and compiling statistics, Brother Albert announced.

Prior to this time, Mr. McAndrews has been connected with the Board of Athletic Control, in the position of Assistant Graduate Manager.

Bears Dump Phoenix In Mud Battle, 4-0

EDWARDS FIELD, Berkeley, March 8.—Capitalizing on four skimpy hits and five "sore-thumb" errors, the California Golden Bear nine won a 4-0 decision over Coach Earl Sheely's Phoenix baseballers here today.

Scoring runs in the third, the fourth and the ninth, the Berkeley horsehiders put together a quartet of of scattered bingles, took up at every spot where the Gaels let down and in general celebrated Co-ed Day in fine fashion.

Saint Mary's, meanwhile, unprepared for the battle in the mud, suffered from baseball "fumbilitis," couldn't connect for more than a pair of safe blows and failed to take advantage of the few breaks they did receive.

Bears Score First

The Bears scored first in the third inning. Captain Thompson got a free trip, loped to second on a wild pitch, went to third on Gallison's out and scored easily when Flynn muffed Archer's long fly.

Saint Mary's threatened in the next canto. Magrini's long wallop to left-center field fell safe when the Bear garden men failed to get footing in the slush that swamped most of the field. With one away, Magrini went to third on Snead's sacrifice fly.

Owens Injured

Hinkley flied out and with two men down, Johnny Owens grounded out to short and Magrini was left stranded. Running to first base, Owens, garrulous Gael backstop, pulled a muscle in his leg and is reported out for two or three weeks.

This was as close as Saint Mary's got all day. And that first half of the fourth inning must have angered the Bear hosts, for they set to work in their part of the same inning, scored two runs and sewed up the battle.

Grimes reached third on an error, and a sacrifice hit. Santos and Grimes

Seniors Win Title

DEFEAT SOPH BASKETEERS

Hanging gingerly on to a well-earned 14-10 half time lead, the Senior class team last night won a thrilling 31-26 victory over the Sophs and along with the decision, the fourth year men earned the coveted inter-class hoop title.

With Minogue and Marty Hill pecking away too consistently for points, the May graduates kept well in front for the first twenty minutes, despite yeoman work by Tom Paddock, Soph guard.

Seniors Forge to Front

After the rest period, the Seniors turned on the heat for the first several minutes of the second half, ran up eleven points in a hurry and put the game on ice.

Paddock and Valentini then started to count buckets up for the second year five, but to no avail as Captain Sam McCullagh and his husky crew, four of them Moraga Wolves, kept well in front.

The Sophs put on a final spurt in the last five minutes, but fell short in their belated rally. El Lang, their last-minute coach and general adviser had only to say that "The better team won."

Hill and Paddock shared high point honors, both counting eleven markers. Minogue and Valentini followed closely with eight.

Local Sluggers Whip Stanford Nine, 4 - 3

Steeley, Desimone Stars in Palo Alto Battle; Locals Allow 4 Hits, 7 Errors

Showing more strength both in fielding and at the bat than they have so far this season, the Saint Mary's baseball nine last Tuesday downed the Stanford varsity, 4-3, at Stanford. Although considerable errors were made by both teams, the game was fast and exciting, and gave the Gaels their first intercollegiate win of the season.

In the first inning, when it looked as if Stanford was getting off to a good start, Saint Mary's retired the Indians with a beautiful double play, Harris to Hanna to Magrini. Then to start things going themselves, in the second frame Hinkley hit a single for the Gaels and later scored the first run on a hit by Desimone.

Three in Third Frame

However, it was in the third inning that Saint Mary's did most of their scoring. Hanna bunted and reached second on an error; Magrini singled to score Hanna, and then Snead hit, bringing Magrini home. Snead went to second on an overthrow and crossed home plate when Hinkley hit a single. The Gaels led 4-0.

Stanford made their first run in the last of the fourth when Brent singled, went to second on Malatratt's hit, and scored on Hamilton's single. Malatratt attempted to steal home but was put out at the plate.

Phoenix Work Double Steal

Harris and Hanna provided some fun in the seventh inning when they caught Stanford short and performed a double steal, Harris going from second to third and Hanna from first to second.

Stanford all but caught up with the Gaels in the eighth inning, putting across two runs. Hits by the Indians and errors by Saint Mary's loaded the bases. Then Hamilton hit a single to score Brent, and Malatratt came in on a sacrifice. But that was the most Stanford could do, and Saint Mary's supporters were more than glad to see the inning over, with the Gaels still leading 4-3.

Steeley In Fine Form

Steeley looked good on the pitcher's mound, allowing Stanford only four hits, but he also got some fine support by the rest of the team. Batteries for Stanford were Herringer and Ferro, for Saint Mary's, Steeley and Owens.

Can You Blame the Phoenix?

With Eleanor Keenan umpiring, Donna Reid catching and Mary Kingwell up at the plate, it'd be pretty hard for anybody to keep his mind on the game. The Phoenix couldn't yesterday and lost to California. But who'd blame them?

Varsity Takes Close Decision From Oilers

The Gael nine, preparing for the second California game, handed the Shell Oilers a 1 to 0 defeat Sunday on the local diamond.

Captain Bucky Harris paved the way for the victory with a two-bagger in the eighth inning. A well placed single by Encil Magrini sent Harris scampering home for the pay-off.

Stetson, the gael hurler, granted the Oilers only two scattered hits in six innings.

Freshman Batters Win Over Les Vogel, 8-4

Scoring four runs in the first inning and four more in the third enabled the Frosh nine to trounce the Les Vogel Club 8 to 4, Sunday at Funston Field in San Francisco.

Captain Kelleher Leads

In the opening canto, timely bingles by Kelleher and Robertson saw the first quartet of tallies cross the platter, and in the third, Hurley and Englert's drives accounted for the second group of four runs.

Local Golfers Face San Francisco Team

Saturdday morning at Orinda, the Gael golfers will get their first test of the season when they meet a six-man team from Saint Ignatius High School in San Francisco.

Although amounting to little more than a practice round, the prepsters should provide some good competition for the Moragans in the match. Individual scores will be kept in order to establish a rating for the Saint Mary's men in future competition.

Playing for the Gaels in their first tournament will be Bill Smith, Sam McCullagh, John Allair, Pres Adams, Bob Curry and Hugh Sill.

PHOENIX WILL MEET STANFORD IN BALL GAMES DURING WEEK

Close Duels Expected Here and at Palo Alto Tomorrow, Wednesday

Fresh from their victory over Stanford last Tuesday at Palo Alto, the Phoenix will attempt to clinch the annual Indian-Gael series tomorrow on their home diamond. If the Gaels fail in their quest of victory they will have another chance next Wednesday at Palo Alto.

Coach Harry Wolters' Indians have a well-balanced hurling staff with the return of Stan Anderson, who has regained his eligibility. Last year he was rated next to Bill Peterson of California in the college circuit. He has as pitching mates John Campbell and Fred Heringer.

New Indian Infield

The teammates backing up these twirlers are not of such a high caliber, as was illustrated in Stanford's previous games. The Indians have lost two of their star outfielders and they have been forced to gather a new infield.

In one of their tilts with Santa Clara the infield alone was responsible for nine errors and the outfield bungled four. Beside their lack of fielding ability they have had a weak season at the plate.

Pitcher Bert Banks of Santa Clara is responsible for the poor showing of the Stanford nine in recent games. In the recent Bronco-Indian series the Reds gathered only eight hits in three games.

About half of these safeties were not scored off Banks. Last year Stanford was rated as the strongest hitting team in the conference, but this season the tables seemed to have turned.

Hanna's Return Helps

The Phoenix has not proven that they are an errorless ball club by a long way, but the return of Bud Hanna at second base will help the fielding and hitting of the squad. Raffanti, who has had some pitching experience, and

GAEL GOSSIP

By Bill Smith

Saint Mary's College,
'Most Any Day.

Mr. Martin "Bunker" Hill,
Last Week's Sports Ed.,
Dear "Bunky":

Here we are, sitting in your old chair at the Sports Editor's desk, looking over the whole works, making plans for the future and hoping down deep that we'll do as well as you did with your weekly column, the make-up, the authorities and all that goes with it.

You had your notebook. We've got our scratchpad. And it's crammed already! Funny how things come up quick-like. We can't print them all because there are some journalistic ethics to be recognized. But if we could!

Still, notebooks and scratchpads and the like are apt to get a guy into trouble sometimes. No doubt we'll be on more than one list when we get through. But, after all, there's nothing staler than yesterday's headline, a fact that a lot of fellows should remember.

Trouble or not, we'll call 'em as we see 'em. There's no use in doing a job like this if you're not entitled to an honest opinion of facts. So we guess there'll be some weeping and gnashing of teeth.

But, "Bunker" ol' pal, before we even take one nasty pass at anybody, we're going to give out a tip. It's right there in the first paragraph under this epistle. It might do some good. It's straight dope, anyhow.

A word to the wise is sufficient, and what we say in this week's column will be the last mention of it. But a lot of youse guys might pin it in your old grey fedora. Try to remember it for a couple of months. It'll do some people some good.

But that thar scratchpad is a-callin,' we've got to really go to work now, for there's much to be done, so we'll take leave. With best regards to you and Havelock H., we remain,

Sincerely yours,
BILL SMITH.

Timely Tip: Don't try to loaf during THIS Spring practice. The clamps are going to tighten down soon.

HAVE A SNICKER: the boys from the Hilltop Foghorn smothered their varsity basketball loss to the Gaels t'other week. They buried it deep in a story, gave it less than an inch and a half in space. But their Frosh win—ah! that was a different story. It was one of the features.

The ONE game that they won from our varsity was blasted across the front page, but when they got dumped nicely they creeped into the hole and pulled the dirt in after them.

We refer them to The Collegian edition of February 15th. That was the week of the one game they beat us. They got a double-column, 24-point head (the biggest we use) reading "San Francisco Five Drub Gaels, 43-27; Knot Series." A newspaper is for news and not small time prejudice, Hilltoppers, and since when was there disgrace in defeat?

The scratchpad reminds us that . . . Johnny Owens won sixteen letters in four years of high school . . . but Owens isn't his original name, anyhow . . . the sports editor won't get his trip to Los Angeles this year . . . because we're meeting UCLA in San Francisco . . . let's play Troy . . . or somebody . . . we never saw hide nor hair of Bill Ingram's highly bally-hooed "rugby-suit footballers" last year . . . just another publicity man's brainchild, probably . . . Nichelini spends most of his spare minutes over in the Gael photography offices . . . claims it's no snap, though . . . shows the campus off to all the camera gals . . . the Saint Mary's Club is all set to help Vince McNally . . . to some new scanties for his hoopsters . . .it's too bad there aren't more outfits like that . . . what minor sports team or teams have so far benefitted . . . from that Brother Leo Stein-fest? . . . Flanagan adds his name to the list of crooners . . .along with Hanna, Meister, Barnes, Kordick and Jorge . . . "Lefty" put on his act at the Prom . . . and set them talking . . . more scratchies next week . . .

Frosh Baseball Men To Be Busy This Week

Bad weather seems to have knocked the Frosh schedule into a loop, with two games over the past week-end being called off, not to mention several others prior to this time.

Games with Alameda and Roosevelt high schools, on Saturday and Tuesday respectively were unable to be played because the field appeared to be in somewhat the same state as did Kezar on the day of the "Little Big Game."

This week-end Saint Mary's Frosh will meet Oakland Tech on Friday afternoon at 3:15, and Sacramento High on Saturday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock, weather permitting. Both games will be played at Saint Mary's.

Last week the Freshman baseball team took it into their own hands to choose a leader, Larry Webber slugging third sacker, was elevated to the position of captain, while Fran Kelleher was elected co-captain.

If the team follows the example set by these two boys, in play as well as in spirit, they should have but little trouble in winning the majority of their games. Both leaders are batting well up around .400 besides playing a nice game on the diamond.

"Unusual" Weather Slows Down Spring Grid Work

Preparation for the 1935 stamina-taxing ten game grid schedule which will place the red and blue bannerol of Saint Mary's on both Atlantic and Pacific seaboards in an ambitious campaign was initiated this week on Moraga's Agnon Field—at least in a measure.

For the precisioned plans of Headman Madigan and his corps of grid strategists were somewhat curtailed this week, however, by the failure of the usually pleasant Moraga weather to orientiate itself to the wishes of both players and coaches.

Half Hundred Report

On the one day that crisp rains did not pierce Don Joaquin's ordinarily tranquil vale, fifty football candidates stormed the practice fields, and under the direction of the assistant coaches engaged in various activities preliminary to the rigorous six-weeks session which should begin next week with the presence on the squad of the blockmen.

Punting, passing, development of several new variations of the Notre Dame shift and the grouping of players in team units for the purpose of perfecting squad "rhythm" have kept the 1934 Freshmen gridders and the non-lettermen busy. Backs and ends are already getting plenty of experience in getting down on punts under harrassing conditions.

Freshmen Comers

Gone are Captain Pennino, Al Nichelini, Walter Harris, Walt Minogue, Joe Curtin, Pres Adams and the rest of the departing seniors, but in their places may be many of the bright stars of Vince McNally's creditable Freshman team.

Frank Ferrera, 180-pound halfback from Saint Mary's High, led the Gaelets to a successful season last year. In the line, five young giants, all over two hundred pounds, may give the returning regulars plenty of competitive verve which makes for good ball clubs.

Gargantuan Tackles Turn Out

Orth and Wilkins, each weighing in the neighborhood of 230 pounds, and built proportionately, are leading candidates for the tackles position vacated so unceremoniously by John Yezerski, ex-'36.

Leo Scatena of San Francisco and Virg Dellosta of Sacramento, both sixty-minute players on the first-year team, will make a conspicuous attempt for the guard posts, while Wally Girard, the real iron soldier of the yearlings, may push all-coast candidate Jorgensen at center, particularly now that Gerry Conlee has been moved to guard.

Stanford Pre-Game

the sophomores Olsen, Irwin and Nelson will also bolster the morale of the team. Captain "Bucky" Harris of the Gaels will attempt to offset any errors by the Moragans with his power at bat.

Stan Anderson who pitched the Indians to three victories over Saint Mary's last year will probably see mound duty tomorrow. Mike Ferro will be on the receiving end of Anderson's slants.

John Owens will be catching for the Gaels. Selected to pitch will be either Steeley, Flanagan or Godec, the only pitchers to merit the Phoenix a conference victory last season. If Anderson pitches for the Reds tomorrow, either Campbell or Heringer will see duty in Wednesday's tilt.

Close Tilt Expected

In the Tuesday game with Stanford, the Tribe was only allowed four hits to Saint Mary's eight. The closeness of the tilt points toward a battle.

Tennis Team Faces Bellevista Sunday

Budge Proteges Will Take On Real Test In Club Meet

Coach Lloyd Budge's Gael racquet wielders move into fast company Sunday when they meet the strong Bellevista Tennis Club of Oakland on the local courts.

Bellevista boasts some of the outstanding players in and about the Eastbay, and if the locals can trim them Sunday it will mean that Saint Mary's has its best team in years.

Boast Many Stars

Jackie Smeltzer, state ranking junior; Johnny Friedman, former Saint Mary's ace and captain of the '32 squad; Clem Friedman, Johnny's brother; Dick Bennett, Cal's No. 1 man; Lloyd Budge, the local coach, and the Wood brothers, "Chuck" and Tom, are some of the notables that grace the club roster.

However, Bennett and Lloyd Budge definitely will not perform here Sunday, and Tom Wood, who captains the local team, naturally will be opposing the club.

"Chuck" Wood May Rejoin Locals

There is a possibility that "Chuck" Wood, who was captain and first ranking player in his only year on the Gael team—his freshman year—and is now captain of the Bellevista netsters, will join the Moraga ranks Sunday.

Webber Elected To Captain Frosh Nine

Larry Webber, hard-hitting infielder, was this week elected captain of the Frosh baseball team. Webber, regular shortstop, is clicking off base hits with satisfying consistency—satisfying to everyone except the opposition.

pulled a double steal and Grimes counted. Santo went three-quarters of the way himself on another sacrifice fly, and came in on Thompson's bingle to left field.

Bears Rest

Fourth, fifth and sixth innings were without further California harvests, but the seventh inning stretch gave them the impetus for their final run.

Santos got a life on Bud Hanna's error, the fifth for the Gaels during the afternoon. He went to second on a walk to Williams and cameacross the pay station on Thompson's long floater to center.

This ended the scoring. The last two innings saw Steeley and Irwin doing substitute stick work, but neither of them could count up a bingle. The Bears rested on their laurels and were content with a four run lead.

Archer, Grilk, Santos and Thompson collected the four Bear hits, with Flanagan and Magrini the only Gaels able to fatten their averages on the deceptive slants of one Joe Gallison, Cal. chucker.

ALUMNI NOTES

ALUMNI BOARD MET IN S. F. ON TUESDAY

"The Alumni Association can and should aid the college in securing new students and in securing greater circulation for the Moraga Quarterly."

This statement by C. Wesley Davis '28, provided the keynote for the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Saint Mary's Alumni which was held at the Pompei Grill, 161 Sutter street, last Tuesday evening, with Past President Dr. Fred T. West '14, presiding.

And, putting words into action, Davis outlined an extensive campaign for securing support for both of these projects. A meeting of the committee to further the program will be held in San Francisco on next Tuesday evening.

Dr. Fred West

The committee in charge of the Brother Agnon Burse campaign reported that $1500 had been secured by the committee, of which Mr. B. P. Oliver '73, of San Francisco, is chairman. The most encouraging report from any member of the committee on the Burse was that by Director James M. Smith '10, who has already secured $330 in contributions.

Present at last Tuesday's meeting were: Dr. West, executive secretary; Timothy J. Canty '23, Directors Smith, J. Giles Miller '28, Davis '28, J. Justin Kegler '28, J. Philip Murphy '28, Joseph Stretch '30, John W. Collins '20, and Fred Wolff '12.

TOLAN APPOINTED TO ARRANGE DINNER

Jack Tolan '33, former student body prexy, and now an assistant to his father, Congressman John Tolan, Sr., in Washington, D. C., has been appointed to take charge of Saint Mary's Alumni's participation in the big intercollegiate alumni night on April 3 as one of the features of the annual convention of the American Alumni Council which will be held in the national capital from April 3 to 6. It is expected that between 50 and 100 different college alumni associations will arrange gatherings in Washington on the occasion of this big intercollegiate project.

$1500 NOW RAISED FOR AGNON BURSE

Working quietly and diligently and, the committee feels that, by Comjudging by the results, effectively, the Brother Agnon Burse committee of the Saint Mary's Alumni Association, under the chairmanship of Mr. B. P. Oliver '73, of San Francisco, reports that already $1500 has been subscribed. The goal for the Burse is $5000 and the commettee feels that, by Commencement Day, the fund will be "over the top."

The Burse is being raised as a memorial to Brother Agnon who for over sixty years was a members of the Brothers of the Christian schools and who, for years, was the guide, counsellor and friend of the Alumni Association.

Subscriptions to the fund are payable in four monthly installments and should be sent to Chairman B. P. Oliver at his office at 100 Montgomery street, San Francisco.

A partial list of the donors to date, arranged in the order of their graduating classes, is: B. P. Oliver '73, Garrett W. McEnerney '81, Dr. Walter Coffey '85, Harry L. Day '85, George M. MEETING AND ELECTION ON HOMECOMING DAY

In order to allow the annual meeting and dinner of the Alumni Association in May to be a reception to the graduating class, the board of directors of the general Alumni Association have set the date for the election of officers of the association for Homecoming Day which will be held at the college on Sunday, March 31.

Formerly the meeting and election have been held on the occasion of the annual dinner which tended to detract from the reception to the incoming members of the graduating class.

Joseph Stretch '30, of Berkeley is chairman of the committee of arrangements for Homecoming Day.

Student Body Mass Opens Lenten Rites

Ash Wednesday, with Student Body Mass and the distribution of ashes at noon, heralded the holy season of Lent. Father Bowling, student Chaplain, announced this week the schedule of Lenten devotions.

Daily Mass will be offered every morning at 6:30, and confessions will be heard during Mass. Confessions will also be heard every evening in the Chaplain's office in Center Hall.

Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament will be given every Tuesday evening. There will be a five-minute period of meditation during the sacrifices, while Father Bowling will give a five-minute talk after Benediction concerning the Lenten devotions.

Stations of the Cross will be made every Friday at eleven o'clock. Students will report to their regular religion classes and then go to the chapel. Benediction will be given after the Stations.

Father Bowling praised the Saint Mary's tradition of daily attendance at Mass during Lent, and he advises all to practice some form of self-denial as a form of penance during this Lenten season.

He is just closing a three-day retreat which he gave to the students of the College of Holy Names in Oakland. As an additional part of his Lenten program, he will speak each Sunday at the 12:15 Mass at Old Saint Mary's Church in San Francisco.

On Wednesday evenings, at Saint Mary's Church in Oakland, Father Bowling and Father O'Connell, pastor, will conduct pulpit dialogues on subjects of Christian Doctrine.

New Men Added To Collegian Staff

Announcement relative to the important assistant sports editor's post was made late this week by Bill Smith, new sports editor. The honor went to Al McKeever, who has been associated with the paper for the past three years in the sports department. His expert handling of several sports features of the past year gained him the post.

Five new reporters signed up this week with The Collegian staff. Four of these will work with the news staff under the direction of the recently appointed news editor, Elias Welch.

The new members are John Soares '37, Robert Kempster '37, Joe I. Alioto '38, Laurence Mana '38. After an absence of one year, due to heavy scholastic duty, Rodney Stetson '36, has rejoined the staff as a feature writer. Charles Noble '38, was the only new addition made on the sports staff.

Debaters Meet Santa Clara, Stanford, During Next Week

Tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. the campus forensic organization will return to the KGO intercollegiate radio debate series when its speakers will exchange opinions with the representatives of Stanford University.

Arthur Mott and Thomas Paddock, the Saint Mary's team, are to present the affirmative arguments of "Resolved: That the affiairs of the world should be entrusted to youth." "Youth" is interpreted as meaning people under thirty years.

Over-worked but still struggling, the Pi Kappa Delta topic in the international shipment of munitions will be rehashed again on the forensic platform Wednesday at the University of Santa Clara.

In a decision contest, Carl Schuck, Joseph Alioto and Thomas Paddock are to defend the negative side of the arms question on that evening against their Mission rivals.

Next Friday two teams from the campus will give an exhibition before the Oakland Lodge of Disabled Veterans. They are to present the arguments for and against the immediate payment of the soldiers' bonus.

Other engagements scheduled for the near future are those with the University of Arizona, the women's varsity of the University of California, Parliament Society of the same institution, Utah State College, University of Idaho (southern branch) and the University of San Francisco.

Frosh In Dual Debate With SFU on March 27

Coming up immediately for the frosh debaters is a dual engagement with the University of San Francisco. "Resolved: That a third major political party is necessary" will be the topic for this meet on March 27.

Arrangements were completed yesterday for the alumni contest with Oakland High in April. Return tilts with California and Stanford, and a discussion with Santa Clara are included on the yearling schedule.

Last week Laurence Mana and Walton Goldman met William Clayton and Carl Barrows of Stanford on the Japanese action in China. The latter squad had the affirmative.

Saint Mary's Club

The second annual smoker and jinx of the Saint Mary's Club, which was held last week, is now history, but it was an evening of worthy entertainment and a great success.

The drive for funds for the Frosh baseball team's equipment was most successful, a total sum of $880 being realized. This will enable the club to take care of almost all of its present obligations.

Words of appreciation are extended to the Hibernia Bank for the two dozen baseballs which it donated to the Frosh. Thanks is also expressed to the following individuals and companies for the success of the jinx: The Associated Oil Co., Hastings, Rincon Post of the American Legion, Kit Kat Club, the Lido, Eddie Healy, Scotty Butterworth, and Peter Maloney, the South of Market Boys, the Saint Mary's coaching staff and the members of the teams present.

Club Personals

Andy Johnson still manages to dispose of more tickets than the rest, but the Post Office department with Louis McGettigan, Martin O'Donnell, Tom Leary and Gene Sullivan kept right up in the running.

The club has among its members the fathers of two Gael athletes, Dave Wilson, the father of the former gridder George Wilson, and Joe Erdelatz, who is the parent of Eddie Erdelatz.

Among other members of the club, Eddie Bryant is in the San Francisco city hall, Joe McElligott is with the city water department, and Thomas Turner is connected with the Railway Express Agency.

Theer are several members who have not been heard from in quite a while. This list includes the Marin county committeemen, Harvey J. Anderson, Max Kaufman and Julius Israel.

PARIS LETTERS

By VICTOR LUSINCHI '34

PARIS, France, March 2nd.—Paris France is anxiously awaiting the German reply to the Franco-British proposals formulated recently at London. Public opinion is not optimistic although it is hoped that Hitler will seize the occasion to support his pacific utterances by aiding in the effort to stabilize European peace.

Although Germany appears disposed to accept in principle the Danubian Pact guaranteeing Austria's independence and to enter the proposed defensive aerial agreement, she will strongly oppose the Eastern Locarno Pact. Long and intricate negotiations will be carried on regarding this point for France will not abandon the project not only because of her desire for security but also because she cannot afford to turn her back on Russia and the Little Entente who earnestly desire to see it become a reality.

But even if Germany refuses to adhere to the London proposals, a great step forward has been taken. England and France, marching hand in hand, are the surest safeguards of European peace. Just as an unequivocal statement by Lord Grey at the eve of the war would have undoubtedly held back the German juggernaut, the fact that England is coming around to the French viewpoint regarding security and that the basis for a Franco-British defensive alliance has been laid means that a repetition of 1914 is highly improbable for the time being.

Stage Hit One of the most popular plays of the season is a translation of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." Under the title of "Miss Ba," it has been running for weeks and weeks at a Champs Elysees theatre.

Med War The colorful Latin Quarter was the center over the week end of a protest by French medical students who contend that too many foreign students remain in France and establish practices. A two-day strike was held when I wandered over to the Ecole de Medicine Saturday I found all the entrances picketed, hundreds of students of both sexes milling about and impromptu orators exercising their vocal abilities with great enthusiasm. French medical students are finding it more and more difficult to get a start because of overcrowdedness in the profession. They maintain that no foreigner should be allowed to practice in France unless he has been a naturalized Frenchman for at least ten years. Another grievance is that foreign degrees are too readily accepted as the equivalent to French degrees.

Friendship "Americans and Mexicans must know each other better. Americans must remember there is a nation of 17,000,000 people south of it, in other words, 17,000,000 friends." Those were the words spoken by Francisco y Najera, recently appointed Mexican Ambassador to Washington, at this week's Anglo-American Press Asso. luncheon. Najera, who started out as a newspaperman with the assignment of covering the bull-fights for a Mexico City paper, has held many important posts. At the present time he is the Mexican Minister to Paris as well as his government's chief delegate to the League of Nations.

Threats Threats against the Flandin government are beginning to be heard, although what it can be reproached is difficult to understand. French politics are very complicated and a parliamentary majority is more elusive than a greased hog. The present government is a coalition or national-union group, which means that it is at the mercy of attacks from all sides. As soon as the strongest group feels that it can overthrow the government and take the reins without provoking an uproar of public opinion, it will do so. But for the time being Flandin will remain in power for no one desires to step in until all the outstanding problems are smoothed over.

Lives of Student Brothers Here on Campus Made Known

School in Berkeley every spring; seminars in vocational education and social justice in our high schools.

"As a matter of fact," he added, "the atmosphere at the Scholasticate is one of complete and earnest preparation for the work of teaching in high schools and everything done there is made to contribute to it, even the reading in the dining room."

At his interrogator's questioning glance, Brother Edward explained that reading during meals is common in all religious orders. The works chosen for this purpose are usually of an interesting and instructive nature. "For instance," he disclosed, "at present they are reading a book on 'Methods in Teaching in High School,' a fine and educational work.

"It would seem to many," he proceeded, "that every minute of the young Brother's time is utilized, and consequently he hasn't the opportunity to thoroughly enjoy his meal. However," he smiled, "a little practice and one is able to attend to the reading and take the necessary nourishment at the same time."

Historical Aspect

Considering the historical association of the building which the young Brothers now occupy, Brother Bede mentioned the fact that it has been originally constructed as a convent to accommodate a group of Carmelite Sisters who came to the college during their exile from Mexico, their home.

When peace was again restored in troubled Mexico, many of the Sisters returned, while others proceeded to Los Angeles where they have been doing missionary work among the Mexicans.

"The Religious Educator, a monthly pamphlet published and distributed among the Brothers in California," said Brother Bede, as he mentioned some of the extra-curricular work in which the Brothers engage, "is written by the Scholasticates.

"During the summer they attend two schools: inter-session and summer session. Between these two sessions they go to camp for a period of two weeks. After the second session a retreat is made for eight days, and immediately following, the regular semester commences.

"For diversion, the Brothers engage in most of the games in which the other students of the college indulge, such as football, baseball, basketball, swimming, tennis, etc. They have regular recreation periods in the afternoon and also on Saturdays and Sundays."

Art Club Plans Trip To Capitol Art Museum

At the regular meeting of the Art Club, held last Tuesday, Brother Claudius addressed the group on the topic, "The Art of the Hopi Indians." The only other business of the meeting was the discussion of plans for a trip to the State Capitol to visit the Museum of Art.

Illustrating his talk with colored slides and exhibiting examples of the pottery, weaving and painting of the Indians, Brother Claudius sketched the history of their art and told of their skill in depiction of symbolical characters in both their weaving and painting.

Salesian Club, Local Squad Meet Tonight

Tonight two varsity debaters of Saint Mary's will journey to North Beach in San Francisco to engage the Salesian Boys' Club.

Joseph Alioto and Thomas Paddock will be the Gaels making the trip. Their opposition will come from Hannibal Noce and Attilio Ruggiero, a student of U.S.F.

The proposition that is up for debate is "Resolved: That the Affairs of Government Should Be Turned Over to Youth." Alioto and Paddock will argue the affirmative with the Salesian orators defending the ability of old men to better handle the reigns of government.

APGU Plan Horatian Commemoration Talk

Four events headline the program of activities to be sponsored by the A.P.G.U. in the near future.

Immediately after examinations have been completed and the marks recorded, several new members will be voted admissions to replace the senior members who graduated in May.

Late in March, the campus honor society will present a well-known East-bay musicion in recital in the lounge.

Horace Observance

As this year marks the bi-millenium anniversary of the Latin poet Horace, the A.P.G.U. will conduct a lecture in the lounge on Horace in the beginning of April. The speaker for the occasion will be announced soon.

To climax the program, Brother Leo will be presented in recital on April 25. The lecturer will be heard in many of his well known poetic renditions.

Campus Knights Take In Three New Members

Representing the Saint Mary's College Council No. 2745, the local branch of the Knights of Columbus, at a reception held last Tuesday evening in the Knights of Columbus Hall in San Francisco, was Grand Knight Edward Mahan of the college.

The reception was held in honor of Supreme Knight Martin H. Carmody. The rally-reception was held in conjunction with the determination of a schedule for the local organizations in the forthcoming national campaign for Mobilization for Catholic Action.

A group of new members were welcomed into the organization at the initiation held last Wednesday evening in the clubrooms. Those receiving the first degree were John Rainsford, Henry Floyd, and Edward Sheetz.

project will be considered at the University of Idaho in the evening. The Washington State engagement probably will be broadcast from the campus studio.

Whitman College at Walla Walla is to be encountered on Wednesday with the munitions problem up for examination. It will be a decision clash.

Thursday evening will find the travelers at Oregon University. The final opponent on the schedule will be the orators of Chico State College on Friday.

Experienced Group

The speakers who are to make the trip will be Henry Floyd, Noel Sherry, William Grosse and Thomas Twomey, forensic manager.

Both Floyd and Sherry have three years varsity experience. The former is president of the senior class and the honor class, while the latter is president of the student body.

Your Gael

Reports from the salesmen who are trying to dispose of The Gael indicate that not enough interest is being taken in the yearbook, especially among the day students. The sales to date are just one-half of what they ought to be at this period of the campaign.

Perhaps this is due to the "tight money market" that preceded the Prom or perhaps it is due to indifference. The latter explanation seems to be more satisfactory, since any other activities that might have required attention are now completed, and still The Gael is not getting its proper support.

Such an attitude is not justified. Saint Mary's is now the only Catholic college in California, perhaps on the Pacific Slope, that publishes a yearbook. Other Catholic schools of higher education our size and with an enrollment four times larger than ours have been forced to drop their yearbook because of lack of interest; because when the going get hard their students couldn't take it." The student body here has maintained a record in this regard and we should strive to maintain that record.

This year the Junior Class is facing an extremely difficult situation, especially since no aid is being given by the college; all the losses, if there are any, will have to be borne by the members of the class. The most effective means by which the student can help the Junior Class is by purchasing a Gael. Let's get behind the Juniors and make an initial payment on the yearbook during the next week.

"Town Hall" covered the campus Wednesday night even better than the recent rains.

"King of the Fishes"

Like many other clowns, and not a few noisy politicians, Huey Long, dictator of the state of Louisiana has been laughed at. During the days when he was merely a state senator, Huey began his incessant appeal to the more illiterate group of voters, by leading bands, running football teams, engaging in public demonstrations of rowdyism, and in general, spouting off about anything which he desired.

But now it is time for the laughing to stop, for the beligerent Kingfish now holds more power in the state of Louisiana than does any other person in any state, governors included. In fact, by his statement, "I am the Democratic party in Louisiana," he means that his dictatorship is assured. What wouldn't a Hitler or a Mussolini give for the force behind Huey's magic slogan, "Every Man a King!"

Huey alone isn't responsible for the power that he wields, but a goodly part of it is due to the group to which he caters. Louisiana has a large population of down-an-out whites, who love to hear the Kingfish spout, enjoy his vindictive back-biting, and who readily applaud his shameful dealings in personalities. A group such as this cannot be swung by a calm exhibit of facts, and the cynical Mr. Long, fully aware of this, takes advantage of the situation with his bombastic oratory.

His state dictatorship is made complete by a group of legislators whom he molds at will, and who virtually do nothing more than provide a rubber stamp for his eminence. Governor Allen is at his command, as are the state militia and secret police, who provide him with his much-needed bodyguards. To combat an antagonistic press, Huey publishes his own paper, "American Progress," and an appealing little pamphlet called "Share Our Wealth," which is dotted with quotations from St. John.

With this power behind him, and his natural gift of persuasiveness, the Louisiana dictator intends to start the White House trek. He's aiming at Wall Street, J. P. Morgan, the Standard Oil, Postmaster-General Farley, and is saving his greatest blast for Franklin D. Roosevelt. This week he started "rocking the boat" in Congress, thereby incurring the wrath of Senator Hastings of Delaware, who described him as "an ignorant, agotistical, and autocratic member of the Congressional crew." But Huey has only started, and upon the band-wagon of "Every Man a King," he will gain far more support than our Southern California theorists did who dabbled gubernatorial elections and pension plans.

The Louisiana blowhard is on his way, and if he doesn't succeed in Hitlerizing America, he can certainly raise cain with the Democratic party in 1936, and provide Mr. Roosevelt with more worries than he ever dreamed of!

Well merited praise is due the authorities responsible for the new examination schedule plan now in effect. To the Office of the Dean from which the arrangement was proposed and initiated in the fall semester of last year and to the Office of the Recorder from which the improved version, currently used, was introduced, the students extend a vote of thanks.

From an unwieldly and intricate system has evolved a simple and flexible schedule adaptable to every student's program. Conflicts have been eliminated, more time is provided for study and the inevitable burden of examinations is lessened considerably.

The same advantages offered to the student are applicable to the faculty. The grief attendant upon two hour examinations and adjustment of conflicts has been corrected.

COLLEGIATE OPINION

Herein is printed weekly the best in university thought.

An Insult to the American People

It is indeed an insult to the intelligence of the average American citizen to see the Hauptmann trial jury going on the vaudeville stage. According to the announcement the jury will answer to questions as to how they voted and why in the trial, and this is advertised as an educational feature. It ought to educate the people to the fact that certain promoters and gullible money-mad people do not care what is done or what institutions they tear down, as long as they make a few dollars. The jury that had to make the decision of whether a man should live or die, this same body that held a man's life in balance, is now going to entertain because they condemned a man to death!

In the United States the courts have been ridiculed by many, and the courts are looked upon as a body of ignorant people, who cannot find any other means of existence. When this jury goes on the stage it will convince people that the American jury system is a joke, and an off-color joke at that. Yet, realizing the fact that it is an insult to their intelligence, the American people will be so ballyhooed with the chance to see this jury, that they will overcrowd the box-offices, thus convincing anyone who wants to make the grade of the stage, all that is necessary is to join a famous American jury.—The Hoya, Georgetown University.

Moraga Musings

Now that Lent is here again, it will be interesting to watch the crowds that besiege the chapel each morning dwindle down to a few old faithfuls by Easter time . . . to see the cigarette sales at the Co-op slowly rise from their all time low on Ash Wednesday to normal before the season is half over . . . but most of all to become fish-minded.

ALBERT THE KING

They do some things better in Belgium. Intent on honoring the memory of their great King Albert, the Belgians plan to spend seven and a half million dollars on a national library bearing his name. Through future generations, the Albertine Library will remind the world of Albert's integrity and heroism.

In our country, what men are thus immortalized? It is common to find libraries named after donors and benefactors, rare to find a national hero immortalized by a library.

Our great names go to lakes, boulevards and athletic fields, army camps, battleships and theaters. The Belgians think that the truest and most dignified immortality comes through association with books.

WHY THE HAVE THE JITTERS

The editor of the Saturday Review of Literature got down to rock bottom in the issue of February 9 of the current year. He describes those fellow citizens of ours whom Louis Adamic calls the "jittery" Americans. "They are jittery," Dr. Canby explains, "because they have no roots, no sense of stability, no inner life. . . . The winds of doctrine blow them about, and social upheaval topples them over. There is nothing to hold on to and they have dropped what they held."

Roots are not everything in life, but without roots nothing amounts to much. The man with the intellectual "jitters" is simply the man cut off—not necessarily through his own fault—from communication with his roots. He has lost contact with the religion, the philosophy, the art and the literature of the European tradition of civilization. He lacks perspective and historical insight. Knowing only the present, he knows not even that. Living only for the moment, he ceases in any significant sense to live at all.

Education is many things and performs many functions. Among them, it is a stabilizer and it facilitates vital communication with our roots. If it deals so largely with the past, it is because the past can teach us most about the present and can best fit us to face the future.

SAINT MARY'S MAN HONORED

George W. Poultney of the class of 1905 is the recipient of a unique distinction, an honorary membership in the Gilbert and Sullivan Society of London. He is the only living person to be found in the United States who has appeared professionally in all of the thirteen operas written by W. S. Gilbert and Sir Arthur Sullivan.

To comply with a further condition for membership in the unique organization, Poultney has written an essay on certain technical aspects of the opera, "The Yeomen of the Guard," which will take its place in the manuscript library of the society.

In announcing the news of his election, Poultney jocosely remarks: "You might be interested in knowing that a graduate of Saint Mary's who 'majored' in baseball while at college could at least gain some distinction other than a block M."

We are indeed interested; but we are not surprised. Though he attended Saint Mary's when the scholarship requirements for athletics were less stringent than now, Poultney was never a participant in the "shower-bath course." Academically, he gave an excellent account of himself. He was a member of the faculty for several years after his graduation, and it was only his ever-increasing interest in the theater which prompted him to sever his connection with the College. Brilliant singer and capable actor, he was long identified with light opera on the Pacific Coast and elsewhere. Especially he gave himself to the interpretation of various Gilbertian roles.

Some of us who teach at Saint Mary's are old enough to remember George Poultney in his greed salad days and to recall with appreciation and gratitude the numerous occasions when, at the height of his operatic career, he came back to Alma Mater to regale the students with an evening of song. Incidentally, he has been a most active and loyal member of the Alumni Association.

Campus Comment

Dear Collegian Editor:

Frequently when one goes into the lounge in De La Salle Hall to read the newspapers purchased by ASSMC funds, he finds that the papers have been taken by someone to his room or else that an article of special interest to some barbarian has been cut out.

If any practice on the campus should be stopped, it is this one whereby ane individual, who perhaps, hasn't even purchased a student body card, mutilates the papers purchased by student funds, not caring about subsequent readers.

The ex council should fine such individuals; it has been able to prevent parking in front of Center Hall by this means so why shouldn't it apply the same principles to this case?

COLLEGIANA

PSYCHOLOGY HERE AND THERE

A psychology professor at Brooklyn College gave one of his classes an aptitude test several years ago. A few days later, having graded the papers, he announced that the marks showed there was one near-genius, three who ranked very high, a score or so slightly above the average, and he topped the list with the declaration that a moron was among those present—today the "moron" is an instructor at City College.

The Fordham Ram tells us that a girl student at an eastern university was reading a paper on animals before a psychology class. Endeavoring to bring a point home very vividly she said, "The difference between a trained and an untrained animal is every bit as great as the difference between an idiot and a college professor." A bored student (probably a senior) wiggled a depreciating finger in her direction. "Let's not split hairs," he suggested wearily.

FALSE ALARM

College traditions come and go, but the University of Southern California students refuse to let their annual "false alarm" fire custom be done away with. On the first day of spring every year the alarm is rung and the collegians gather to watch the engines pay their yearly visit to the campus.

EASY MONEY

One of the students at Villanova answered a magazine advertisement promising to give information as to a means of acquiring much money easily. Of course, a nominal sum of one dollar was charged for the issue of this valuable information. In a few days the embryo Midas received this answer: "Do as I did, brother."

LET'S TRANSFER

The average cost of attending college for one year is about $600. The lowest tuition rates prevail in Brooklyn College, C.C. N.Y., and at Hunter. At each of these institutions, one dollar a year is the fee.

CLASSROOM POLICE

In place of the far-famed honor system, North Carolina has adopted a new procedure in examinations. Representatives who are to act as classroom police are elected—we'd probably call them "stooges" here—by the various classes. Any breach of honor during a quiz must be reported by these "watchers," and a senior committee has the power to reprimand any offenders.

NOTHING MORE

Under a column headed "Ho-Hum" the Loyola News prints—pbobably composed under the influence ow laudanum—the following exercpt:

One night as I lay thinking
Of the pleasant days of yore,
I heard a swishing, swashing
Just outside my bedroom door.

Up the hall a funny clicking
And some shuffling on the floor
T'was my sister in galoshes
Only tha and nothing more.

At this point the laudanum seems to have worn off. We'd like to give you more to ponder, but that is all there is and nothing more.

BUSINESS BEFORE PLEASURE

We feel that a reaction is in full sway against men of the Huey Long type. Anyway we are sure Huey wouldn't like Stan Kostka of the University of Minnesota. Stan was a candidate for mayor of his home town until he found out that he had an exam scheduled for the same day as the election, so he dropped his candidacy—which automatically eliminates him from being one of Huey's secretaries when Huey becomes president.
